

GERALD ABATEMARCO, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

LEGAUS OF NORTH CAROLINA, LLC, SYNOVUS BANK, et al.,

Defendants.

Pending before the Court is the Joint Motion for Discovery [# 117]. On the last day of the discovery period, the parties filed a joint motion requesting that the provisions of a discovery Order entered in the case Synovus Bank v. Karp, Civil Case No. 1:10-cv-172, be entered in this case. The parties neglected to file a legal brief in support of their motion, as required by Local Rule 7.1(C). Moreover, neither party ever filed a motion to compel or a motion for protective order in this case.

-1-

the documents and provide Defendants with a privilege log if they have not already done so, the Court will not enter a discovery order directing that the parties in this case abide by a discovery Order entered in another case when no party ever filed a discovery motion seeking to compel the production of documents or seeking the entry of a protective order. Accordingly, the Court DENIES the motion [# 117].

Signed: August 14, 2013

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Dennis L. Howell", written over a horizontal line.

Dennis L. Howell
United States Magistrate Judge

